

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hilsen til alle—Greetings to you all!

At the April lodge meeting, LaRena Hannon gave an informative presentation about the Sami people (also known as Laplanders) who reside in the northern reaches of Norway, Sweden, and Finland. It was a delightful lecture, and she will present additional information at future meetings.

Carol Lee Solheim also provided information on the novels of Sigrid Undset, who was awarded the Nobel Prize for her Kristen Lavransdatter novels. Copies of these novels are available in the Lodge Library for check-out. Thanks also to Pat Harriman, who provided the delicious refreshments for the meeting.

I invite you to attend the next lodge meeting on May 10th at the San Juan Masonic Hall for another interesting meeting.

We did not have an April social meeting, but we are looking forward to the May 15th piano recital "Nordic Elegance" by Knut Erik Jensen. This Sunday afternoon recital should be a real treat. Please see the flyer in the newsletter. A reception will follow the recital, which will be held at Lutheran Church of the Master.

I invite all of you to attend our lodge events, the meetings and the socials; guests are most certainly welcome. We're a very social and welcoming group. Hope to see you there.

Tusen takk,

David Bailey, President

Who is Magnus Carlsen?

He is the youngest chess player to ever be ranked number 1 in the world! ...and he is Norwegian.

Carlsen was born in Tønsberg, Norway, the 30 November 1990. He learned to play chess from his father at the age of 5. The game soon became his big passion. Carlsen's first goal was to beat his sister, then his father and he obviously didn't stop there. Magnus became an International Grandmaster at the age of 13, the youngest at the time.

In October 2009, during the Nanjing Pearl Spring tournament, he became the fifth chess player in the history to achieve an Elo-rating over 2800 – by far the youngest. That year he also became The World Blitz Chess Champion.

Now at the ripe old age of 20, Carlsen also enjoys a budding modeling career with G-Star Raw, a clothing store for the young, hip set.

If you are a chess nut, you can follow Carlsen's tournaments blow-by-blow on his blog located at http://www.arcticsec.no/index.php?button=blog&main_image=35

Legendary Norwegian Athlete Dies at Age 57

Grete Waitz, the Norwegian schoolteacher who won more New York City Marathons — nine — than anyone else, and whose humility and athleticism made her a singularly graceful champion and a role model for young runners, especially women, died Tuesday in Oslo.

In 1991, Runner's World magazine named Waitz the female runner of the quarter-century, and she was perhaps the pre-eminent female distance runner in history. She twice set the world record at 3,000 meters, and she set world records at distances of 8 kilometers, 10 kilometers, 15 kilometers and 10 miles.

But it was in the marathon, the 26.2-mile symbol of human endurance, that Waitz most distinguished herself, setting a world record of 2 hours 32 minutes 30 seconds the first time she ran one, in New York in 1978, and subsequently lowering the world standard three more times. In addition to her New York City victories, Waitz won the London Marathon twice, the Stockholm Marathon once and the world championship marathon in 1983.

Remarkably, Waitz, ran her first marathon as a lark, with the encouragement of her husband, who was also her coach, and who told her that a trip to New York would be like a second honeymoon for them. Even in training she had never run more than 13 miles. As she recalled in later interviews, the last 10 miles of the race were agony, and she was so angry at her husband that when she crossed the finish line, she tore off her shoes and flung them at him.

"I'll never do this stupid thing again!" she yelled. We're glad she did.
